Steven Hanekroot, Product Owner Pre-development and Innovation at Politie, invites you on an inspiring journey into the power of neurodiversity within agile teams. Discover how understanding neurodiversity can transform the way your team collaborates, innovates, and performs.

PROGRAM

- 15:30 Welcome and opening
- 15:40 Presentation, questions and discussion
- 17:00 End of session

Neurodiverse team members, such as people with autism, ADHD, or dyslexia, bring unique strengths, from sharp problem-solving skills to exceptional creativity. When you know how to recognize and harness these talents, you not only prevent misunderstandings, but also create a team environment where everyone can thrive.

Embracing neurodiversity boosts collaboration, increases flexibility, and fosters a culture of respect and openness.

During this session, Steven Hanekroot will share practical tips & tricks to help you shape and implement effective neurodiversity policies so your team can unlock its full potential.
